iTouchless® - Born and Raised in the Home of Tech

Born and based in the home of tech, Silicon Valley, iTouchless has been innovating housewares for nearly 20 years. In that time, we have been a driving force in advancing housewares into the 21st century. iTouchless' diverse offerings fit into any residential or commercial space, with emphasis on melding function with form. Our products are designed to be as aesthetically pleasing as they are convenient and enjoyable to use.

Ever since iTouchless built the world's first sensor-operated trash can in the 1990s, we have been continuously developing disruptive, industry-changing products that have captured consumers' imagination and returned increased revenue for our retail partners.

The International Home + Housewares Show is the premier venue for launching new developments in our industry, so it's only natural that iTouchless should showcase new additions to our innovative line of houseware products at this year's show.

iTouchless Partners for Success iTouchless' commitment to our retail partners' success with their products is of primary importance. To that end, some new products will only be available from their retail partners' brick and mortar outlets.

iTouchless is committed to driving our retail partners' success by continually improving the products consumers love, while simultaneously developing entirely new products based on research and a passion for building exciting new technology.
